

◆ 2004-2005 Council of Science Editors Board

Faith McLellan was installed on 16 May as president of the Council of Science Editors for the 2004-2005 term. McLellan, a CSE member since 1988, has chaired several committees and been program coordinator for several Council retreats. She is the North American senior editor of The Lancet.

Faith McLellan

Newly Elected

Monica M Bradford, executive editor of Science, has been elected CSE vice president for 2004-2005. Bradford, who joined the Council in 1983, has been a speaker and moderator at CSE annual meetings. She has served on the Nominating Committee, the Annual Meeting Program Committee, and the Public Affairs Committee.

Monica Bradford

Frank Stumpf is the new treasurer-elect. Stumpf, president and chief operating officer of SPI Publisher Services, has been a Council member since 1990. He has been chair of the Sponsorship Committee and a speaker at annual meetings.

Frank Stumpf

Diane M Sullenberger has been elected a director of CSE. A Council member since 1994, she chaired the Membership Committee in 1997-1998. She has also served as a faculty member of the short course for journal editors several times. Sullenberger is the executive editor of the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences of the United States of America.

Diane Sullenberger

Continuing on the Board

Richard Horton, editor of The Lancet, has ascended from vice president to president-elect.

Diane Berneath Lang, assistant director of publications—editorial at the Radiological Society of North America, continues as secretary.

Stephen Prudhomme, director of scientific publishing, American Heart Association, has ascended from treasurer-elect to treasurer.

Leesa Bruce, senior director of publications at the Canadian Pharmacists Association, and Margaret A Winker, deputy editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA) and Web editor for the online editions of JAMA and the nine Archives Journals, continue as directors.

Michael J Held, executive director of The Rockefeller University Press, remains on the board as immediate past president.